

st Art

A thick, vibrant blue line starts at the end of the text 'st' on the left. It curves upwards and to the right, forming a large loop. It then curves downwards and to the right, forming a smaller loop. It continues to curve downwards and to the right, forming another loop. Finally, it curves downwards and to the right, ending at the beginning of the text 'Art' on the right. The line is smooth and continuous, creating a decorative bridge between the two words.
