Title:	Book Illustration I created the illustrations of the book under the title: " Agamemnon's Daughter ", written by Ismael Kadare, of Albanian Nationality.
Description:	The main concept was to present evolution of communism in Albania. The challenge for me was to best fit snapshots of the country's life to various parts of the text : based on this objective, I had to investigate in two directions: primarily the country's history, its culture, as well as issues related to its landscapes, dressing , human profiles and internal decoration rituals as well. Secondly I had to create unique and symbolic illustrations for communism.
